property and its competitor for which we want to find out information is Country Inn & Suites by Radisson, Savannah. However The names must be picked up from the UI , from rate shopping configuration ' as is' and hence would be only "Country Inn & Suites by Radisson, Savannah" . Pick the name from step 5 section in the image below .

- From_occupancy_date(Date)
 - The start range of date from where the client is reporting that data is missing. Must be in the format YYYY-MM-DD
- To_occupancy_date(Date)
 - The end date from a range of date where the client is reporting that data is missing. Must be in the format YYYY-MM-DD
- channelName(String)
 - The typical Default channel which the property has configured for the property. In this example instance 'Brand.com'.
- Verification step :
 - The result of the query above should result in a job and that job should be monitored to give you a result. If the result looks like below , ie. with some data :

that means then that vendor is sending data for the said competitor . If the data is still present but competitor still does not show – use the following

- Look for the applicable channel on that day from Channel settings. This is an essential qualifier – For the report to show relevant data right channel selection and its relevant data presentation by the RSS vendor is essential. Below could be checked to verify this information.
 - Channel selection in UI in the Configure> Rate shopping configuration is , for example brand.com . , should be completed for the right vendor. It could be the case that there is no data under this channel but some other channel instead.
 - There is data sent issued by the Rate shopping channel (like OTA insights) for this specific channel rendering the UI blank ,given G3 has no input data
- Rates for competitor are displayed only for master class, so check whether master class is mapped in Rate shopping.
 - To verify this information go to Configure > Room configuration and click OK on the landing page . You should see something like below . and that should give you your masterclass.

- You can go to Configure> Rate Shopping configuration > Room Class Mapping . Something like below
- From the two images above you can say that all the room type information being issued by the Rate shopping vendor for all the competitive room types are mapped to the masterclass (Suite Room class) in the image above and hence is a correct configuration for the data to show accurately for all . If not – then client must correct configuration . You must issue communication to client to indicate that the mapping configuration on the rooms is impacting availability of competitor information in the report.

- If the result returns a zero result – then vendor has not sent any data for the said competitor and then you should escalate this issue to the client along with the file to show case the presiding conditions – i.e. the hotel/ the RSS vendor and the channel selection along with the competitor name and that no data is received from them for LOS1.
- False
 - IF it is not set- please check with either a CPM/CRM based on the site status to see why its currently setup the way it is setup . Go through the history of the cases on the account to know what may have triggerred this change.
